

ALEXANDER LAWRENCE AMES is an intellectual historian, material culture scholar, and library and museum professional based in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. With interests in the religious, intellectual, and cultural history of early America, Ames's research has explored the production and use of religious books and manuscripts in Pennsylvania and beyond. He holds an M.A. in public history from St. Cloud State University (St. Cloud, Minnesota), as well as an M.A. in American material culture, an M.A. in history, and a Ph.D. in history of American civilization and museum studies from the University of Delaware. He works as Associate Curator of the Rosenbach Museum & Library, an historic house museum and special collections library affiliated with the Free Library of Philadelphia.